

Short report

My name is Fiacre Byiringiro Mugabe a pathologist in training from the University of Rwanda.

I have been awarded a bursary from BDIAP to attend the IAP congress in Jordan from 14-18 of October 2018.

First of all, I thank BDIAP for giving me this opportunity to attend such wonderful and fruitful congress.

From my experience, it was an enjoyable moment, I met high ranked pathologist across the world. I have learnt a lot from the congress and almost all topics were covered targeting all levels of pathologists: form young pathologists to high ranked ones. It was really amazing.

Logistically, the congress itself, was well organized. Dead Sea is a nice place with a good climate.

I had time to enjoy and exchange experiences with colleagues from different countries. Again, Jordan is touristic country with many historical places especially religious ones.

My round journey was safe
